

DbNetLink Limited is a software company specialising in web-based application interfaces to the database, file and e-mail systems.

We provide a combination of standard components, modules and application frameworks that make it easy to collect and distribute information using a browser.

We are located in Bristol, England and have grown rapidly since our inception in 1999, acquiring customers that range from large US corporations to individual software developers in over 40 countries around the world. Our central ethos is to create high quality, functional software that is easy to use and effective, backed up by outstanding levels of service.

To find out more about how web-based applications can make your business run more efficiently call us on +44 (0) 1454 629 607 or e-mail us at info@dbnetlink.co.uk

For more information visit us at;

www.dbnetlink.co.uk